dedication

DR. JOHN HORTON ALLEN, Dean of the University, is the man to whom we of the 1966-67 SOUTHERNER Staff chose to dedicate this fifty-third volume. We feel that he is a man of principle and character—an outstanding example of an administrator informed about student interests and problems. When students congregate for an important formal occasion, Dean Allen is on the platform. ROTC Commissioning Ceremonies, Religious Emphasis Days, a University service to the community such as Shelby Sunday, and Basketball Invitational Tournaments, are all graced by the warmth and wit of this man. He attends, and in doing so, adds stature to the event. We are grateful for his presence, for seldom is a university blessed with so personable a dean. We hope this dedication will in some way express our appreciation for the daily contributions he makes to the unity of administration and student body at the University of Southern Mississippi.

PROGRESS

The purposeful progress evident in every endeavor of the University of Southern Mississippi is a strong steady stream surging us upward to ever-diversifying higher stages of accomplishment.

It is the thirty-three new instructors of doctorate standing who chose USM this year. It is the unceasing construction . . . temporary inconvenience which yields a million-dollar coliseum, and the beautiful College Hall auditorium.

It is the addition of a school of nursing, the long-awaited athletic dorm. Progress takes many forms, but it is continuous improvement.

It must be the result of unified effort between Administration, Faculty, and Student Body. There are occasional setbacks, but we believe unity of purpose will eventually elevate the University of Southern Mississippi to a point even beyond our present lofty position. As enrollment continues to increase by more than two thousand a year, the spirit will grow—the campus will progress; and with pride we shall say "USM—biggest and best."

Purpose is the object for which anything exists, is done, used, or formed. USM exists to educate; its methods are many. It can be harsh and hurtful. Then it will comfort. We learn to cope with the hurt; appreciate the comfort. We either learn or leave defeated.

If we endure those first few lonely days of chaos . . . we find limitless opportunity. USM offers much in the realm of human relationship. We are bound by our Southern tradition of friendliness. We do not exclude, but welcome and readily include, the newcomer to our society. We are different and learn from one another. We conform and call ourselves individuals. University's purpose is to permit this and more. The University of Southern Mississippi also offers much in the academic realm. A liberal education—one which produces well-rounded, contributing citizens is Southern's to give to those willing and eager to take.

PURPOSE

UNIVERSITY

University is physical. It is an entity composed of tangibles—the classrooms, instructors, textbooks. Ours—the University of Southern Mississippi—is an object of pride. It is structurally well planned and has an ideal geographic location. It is adequate in every aspect, superior in many. However, it is but a means. Society has created this physical plant to fill a need. It exists as a housing agent for the facilitation of the development of minds—that they might learn to abstractualize. University provides a set for ideas, reason, and solution—supplying an ordered presentation for the student, that he, through intellectual evolution, might benefit society. Without him, it would be null—merely a monument to what might have been. The University is only a fragment, the external.

We are the internal, existing to absorb.

Prior to university enrollment we conformed to an established unit. We were not one, but an integral part of more. Released, as freshmen from that unit, we began, at the University, the formation of "one" with hopes of becoming complete.

Every aspect of university life contributes to the process of self-realization—completion. We receive education partially from the classrooms. Temporarily memorized historical facts, so mundane, are so necessary. Some are internalized, others promptly disremembered. But they are the basis; they are the foundation of reason.

US

Parallel to the importance of academic exposure is what we unconsciously assimilate from the remainder of the USM environment. The effect of the opinions of others on the things which concern us. Whether to fight and possibly die in Vietnam, the questionable existence of God, the Great Society, LSD. All are paramount, but not immediate. University is protective. Here we confront, analyze, and deal with the daily crises of life and hypothetically solve the world's perplexities. Here contemporary problems are approachable. We balance the war against the threat to our present and future way of life, view tradition on our own terms, to form a religion which fits, or to decide if we possess a capacity for the metaphysical at all. Here we accept or reject individuality, a choice forced upon us by the University's attempts to "numberize," to make us that student file number. By rejecting we establish independence and self reliance. Still, we need the University's protective environment in order to develop rationality, intelligence . . . to become us. Here under the shelter provided by the University of Southern Mississippi we formulate and experiment with various behavioral systems which will enable us to cope with and contribute to the future.

We return . . . to greet the old friends . . . meet more. Registration . . . the one in Fall is always most hectic. Air Conditioned Coliseum improved things, but confusion and frustration can't be overcome . . . merely endured in increased comfort. This is the beginning.

RUSH . . . impossible to describe the emotion, indecision, and plain old exhaustion. The effort demanded is small price to pay for the result. Brotherhood . . . a beautiful, well-structured Greek system which will ever enrich the lives of those involved.

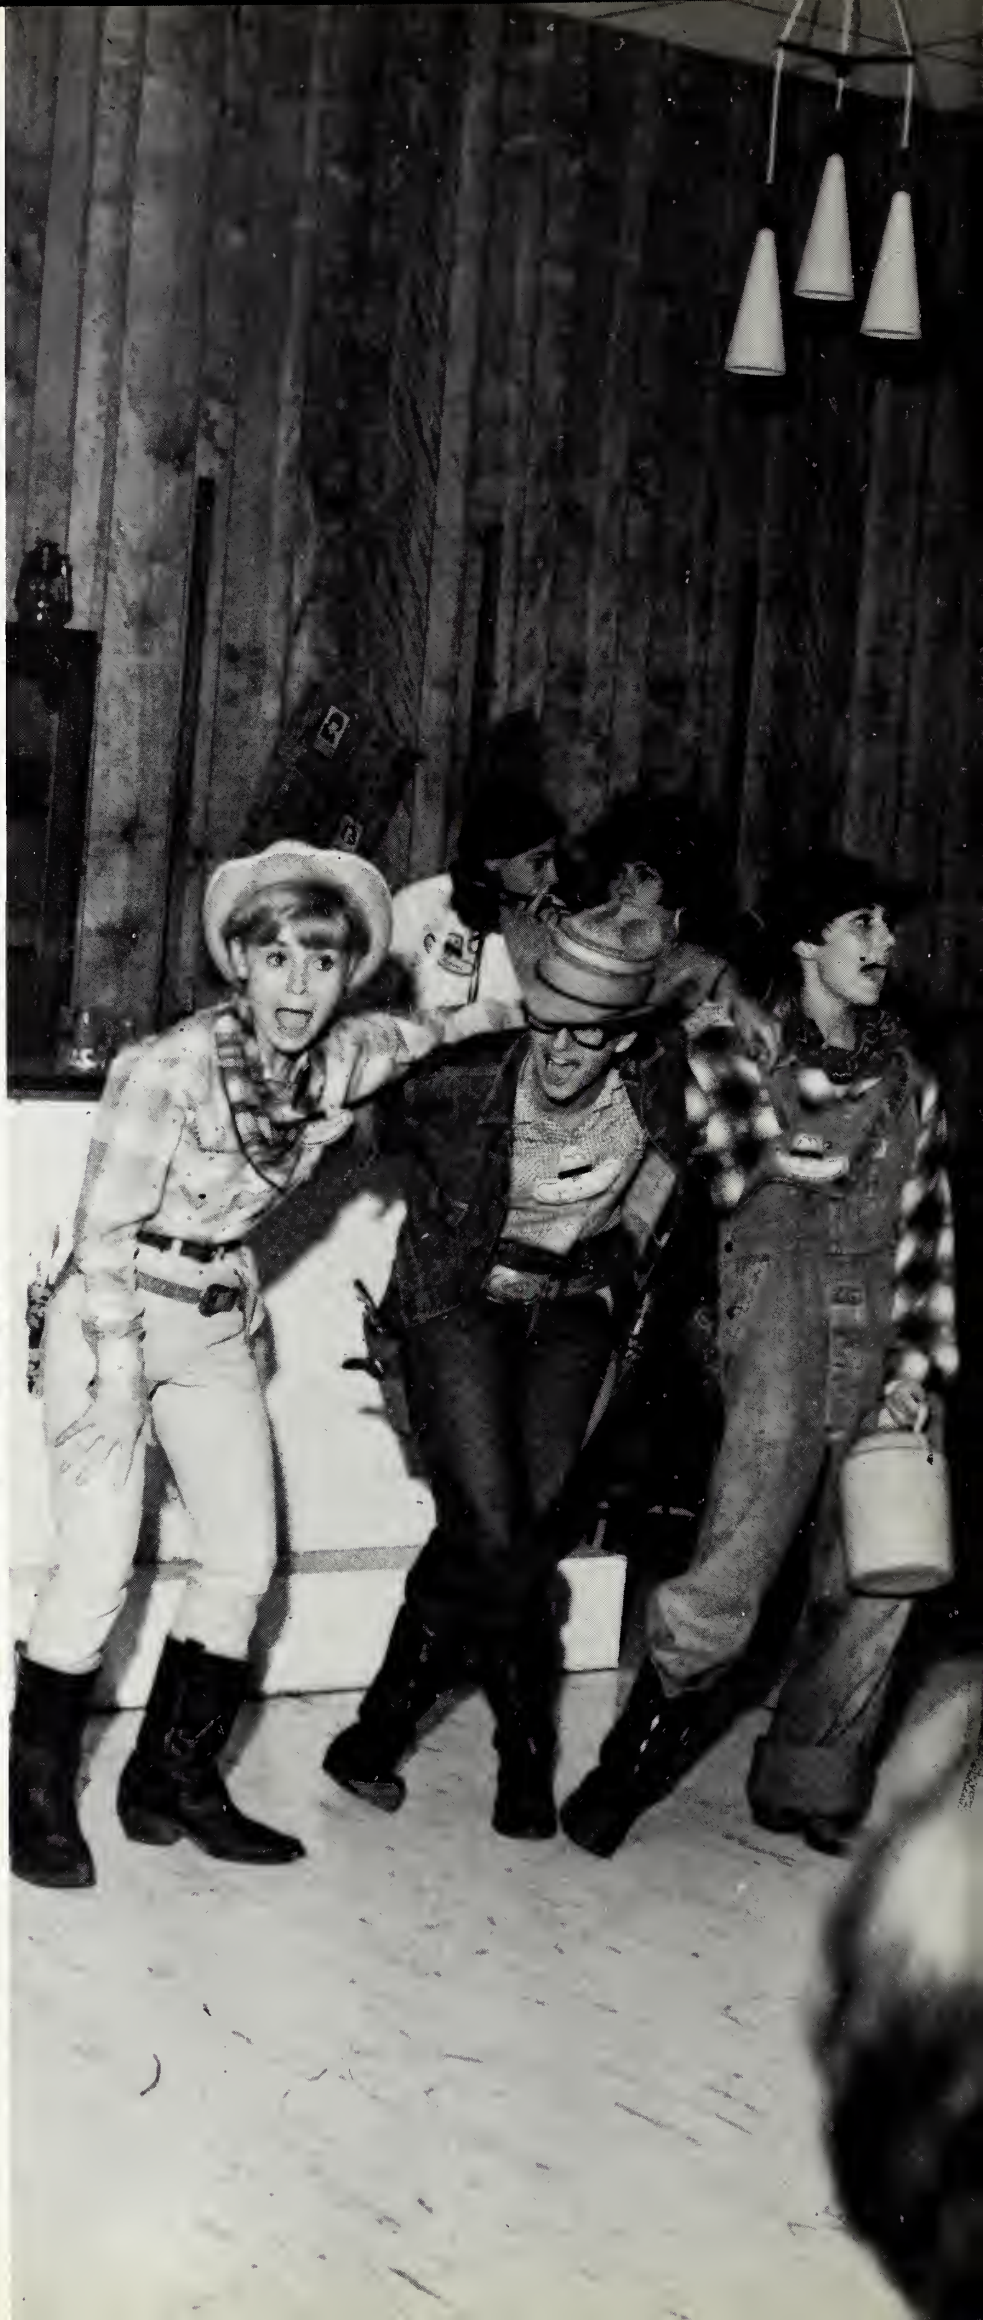

You may rise.

Aiieh! A charlie horse.

The months of practice provided an evening of first rate entertainment which participants enjoyed along with a rapt audience despite their almost tangible tension. Results: the Singing Sigs won again, as did the Deltas. Second Place went to Kappa Delta and Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Mu and Phi Tau were third-place winners.

Activity

Activity abounds at USM, with satisfactory diversity to provide a place for everyone enthusiastic enough to seek those with similar interests. Skydiving to Southwestern Sales—whatever one desires is available. New organizations emerge to meet increased enrollment and individual desire to affiliate. The organizations' activities provide a means: for development of leadership ability, for recognition of worth or outstanding achievement, and for social growth.

University Activities Council activities entertain. We may spectate or participate, and enjoy both. Strictly for fun is the wholesome activity sponsored by USM's largest organization. The once-a-quarter Religious Emphasis Days under the direction of the Student Christian Federation . . . the Student Government Association . . . long-awaited reapportionment plan passed by the Student Senate to insure a more fair student representation . . . selection of Campus Beauties and favorites . . . and the impromptu, are all part of the activity of Southern—Activity so vital to total growth, to learning to live with and appreciate one's fellows.

Membership in PI KAPPA PI national honorary fraternity holds for its initiated participants a special honor. Names of qualified candidates are submitted annually and an initiation banquet for the new members is one of the organization's most important social events.

Students must receive seventy percent A's on ninety consecutive quarter hours of school work at Southern to be considered for membership in Pi Kappa Pi. This national society received its charter in 1949, and holds the recognition and encouragement of sound scholarship as one of its high ideals.

One of the highest honors that can be attained by senior women at the University of Southern Mississippi is to be tapped for membership in PHI DELTA RHO. Projects of this local organization include providing the Guidance Library with materials and information pertaining to student guidance. Sending books abroad for the benefit of foreign students is one of the most recent projects. Membership selection is made by Dean Lawhorn and a select committee appointed by her. Membership is based on the worthy contributions of these women to their school, their association, and to themselves. They must rank high scholastically, and exemplify the qualities of a good leader. New members are selected each year to carry on the high standards of living exhibited by the Phi Delta Rho members, active on Southern's campus for twenty-four years.

PHI ETA SIGMA is a freshman honor society. Eligibility for membership is based solely on scholarship. All freshman men who earn a scholarship average equal to or better than a 3.5 in their first quarter of college will be elected. Membership is also extended for achieving the same minimum average on the basis of an entire year's work.

This year the members of Phi Eta Sigma instituted a free tutoring service for freshman males. Academic assistance was made available in nearly every subject in the Basic College. Other activities included a freshman visitation in the fall quarter, an initiation ceremony and banquet, and the granting of Honors Day awards for outstanding academic achievement.

The WOMEN'S AFFAIRS BOARD, the official legislative body of Southern coeds, serves as coordinator of women student activities and revises all rules and regulations concerning women students. Quarterly activities, such as dormitory elections, convocations, and dormitory cultural programs, are sponsored by the board in order to bring the women close together to learn about and participate in student government. Each year a scholarship is awarded to some outstanding woman on Southern's campus. The Miss SOUTHERN HANDBOOK is compiled to help the freshman woman become familiar with the way of life of the Southern coed before she arrives at the University.

The PRESIDENTIAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE was formed to discuss matters or problems which involve the school, the students, and the administration. This committee takes no action itself, but offers an opportunity for the administration to meet and discuss with the students. It is designed to bring about better communication and understanding among the teachers, the students, and the administration.

The UNIVERSITY ACTIVITIES COUNCIL is composed of one representative from each social, religious, honorary and independent organization, and volunteers who request membership on the council.

The council plans and promotes parties, dances, tournaments, talent shows, and other activities for students. These activities are under the direction of the Union Program Director. Throughout the year the Activities Council has brought "Big Name Entertainment" to the Southern campus. Some of the big names this year were Martin St. James, Jack & Sally, Back Porch Majority, The Four Seasons and The Kingsmen. After-the-game-dances, the Christmas Dance, and the Computer Dance all had fine bands and provided fun for everyone. The Annual Mardi Gras Ball proved successful again with food, food, food, and The Basement Wall providing the music.

Its purpose is to serve as an organizational framework whereby its members, through individual service, can insure a better residence hall program for residents of USM. The organization has enjoyed excellent leadership. Because of this, wide participation in campus activities by individual members, and increased club-sponsored social functions, Rho Eta Sigma has attained well-deserved campus recognition.

We of the SOUTHERNER STAFF present you with this 53rd edition in hopes that this book will serve you hereafter as a stimulus that you might readily recall the many memories of this year, 1966-67. Putting a university yearbook together is a monumental task requiring literally thousands of hours of tedious work. It demands cooperation from all organizations and individuals directly or indirectly involved. When that cooperation is lacking, the difficulty of our job is compounded, often making adequate coverage of a particular event or organization impossible. We sincerely appreciate the interest and cooperation we've received from so many of you . . . the patience of those roommates who tolerated SOUTHERNER pages scattered about the living-room floor for days at a time . . . the organization Presidents who arranged meetings overnight so a picture could be taken. We recall the temporary panics, the deadlines . . . always wondering how they manage to fall right along with final exams. We take pride in the result of our efforts and, again, hope this SOUTHERNER will serve you well.

The YELLOWJACKETS are a university tradition of long standing. Some of Southern's most able leaders are members of this seemingly mercenary crew. Original purpose of the organization was to boost school spirit and uphold USM's traditions. They eagerly greet incoming freshmen, see that frosh buy their beanies and Drawls, and willingly furnish freshmen men the incentive to purchase that gold and black head cover. Then the Yellowjackets sponsor a Beanie-Burning Bonfire. These gentlemen also serve as hosts and guides to campus visitors.

We do a thorough job at small cost . . . and we enjoy our work.

Miss Southern Pageant

One winner crowns another.

Every Spring quarter about the last of April the Student Government Association 2nd Vice President organizes and conducts a beauty pageant according to the official Miss America guidelines. Contestants are sponsored by various university organizations and dormitories. The 1966 pageant, under the direction of Miss Beverly Dale, was an outstanding one. It included bathing suit, talent, and evening gown competition. Robbie Robertson won the pageant and reigned as Miss USM until June when she was selected Miss Mississippi, whereupon first alternate Gail Reeves became Miss USM. The short weeks involved are full of emotion, tension, and fun; and many rich friendships are formed between contestants.

1966 Miss USM, Linda Mann, 1966 Miss Mississippi, Patsy Puckett, who served as hostess of Southern's pageant, Robbie Robertson, pageant winner, and Gail Reeves, 1st alternate, display a certain sign of sisterhood.

Empress Kilpatrick, 2nd alternate; Robbie Robertson, Miss USM; Gail Reeves, 1st alternate.

Donna Lee Field was selected Miss Congeniality by the other contestants.

Athletics

ATHLETIC progress is ours in the new coliseum, the athletic dormitory under construction, the soccer team formed this year, the signing of outstanding high school athletes who visit, see what we have to offer and wish to be a part of this thriving university.

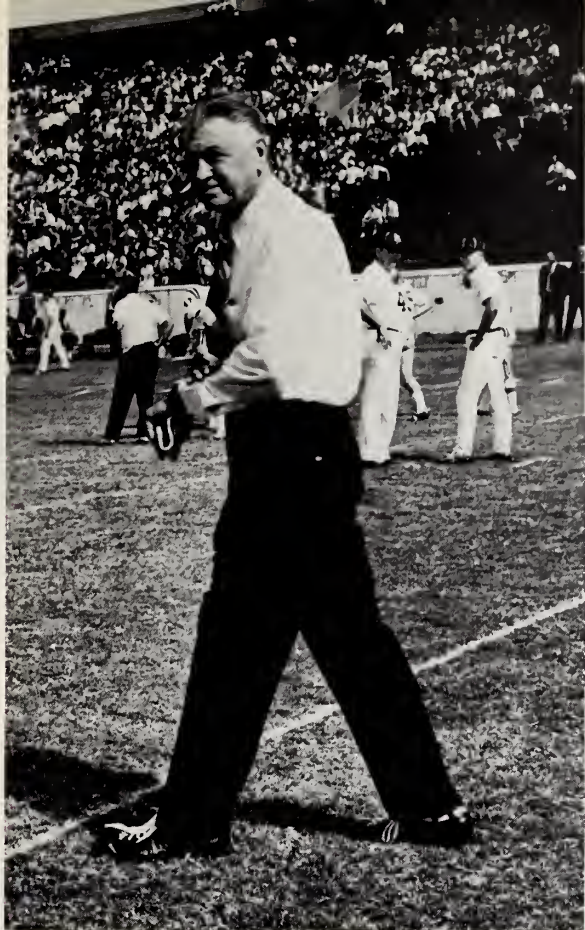

Athletic participation is open to every member of USM's student body and serves many purposes. Increased physical strength and coordination . . . the satisfaction of teamwork . . . friendships formed through group effort . . . the desire to win, but willingness to compete with spirit and enthusiasm even in the face of certain defeat are attainable through athletic participation and add to an important facet of individuality.

Whether they come through intercollegiate competition or intramural sports contests, the lessons of sportsmanship, the incomparable tastes of well-earned victories, and the realization of a "team" standing together in defeat, will forever hold us to USM as we depart her campus.

FOOTBALL SEASON—full of color, enthusiasm, travel—a time for the University to unite in support of our “Stingy” Southerners. Coach Vann enjoyed another winning season, which closed November 26 with a 6-4 record. From the first game against Louisiana Tech until the last with Alabama, USM was again rated the Number One defensive college team. Southern started the season by defeating Louisiana. Up north to Memphis, where the Southerners scored statistically, but couldn’t get on the board.

They came home with their first defeat: 6-0. Coach Underwood’s vaunted vandals proved they were the best again in sixty-six. The Southerners allowed Mississippi State only 38 yards running and 47 yards passing while the raiders gained 83 yards on the ground and 41 in the air. Despite the 10-9 loss for Southern, it was a contest all the way. And the Bulldogs won’t be looking to Southern for an easy Homecoming win in the future.

In buses, hitchhiking, in cars bearing black and gold, the student body of USM invaded Ole Miss to support the Southerners. And our team allowed the “mighty Rebs” only 8 first downs in the entire game and held them scoreless for three and a half quarters, while USM fans revelled in that 7-point lead. The game ended 14-7, Ole Miss, but Southern was not defeated. The showing of the team, fans, Dixie Darlings, and Marching Band warranted the pride felt by every Southerner as we departed.

Grouped around the water trough, soaking up shade.

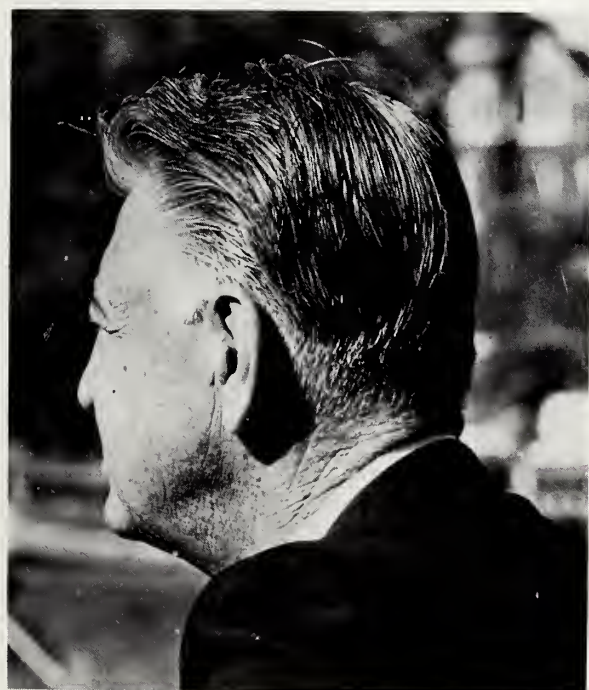

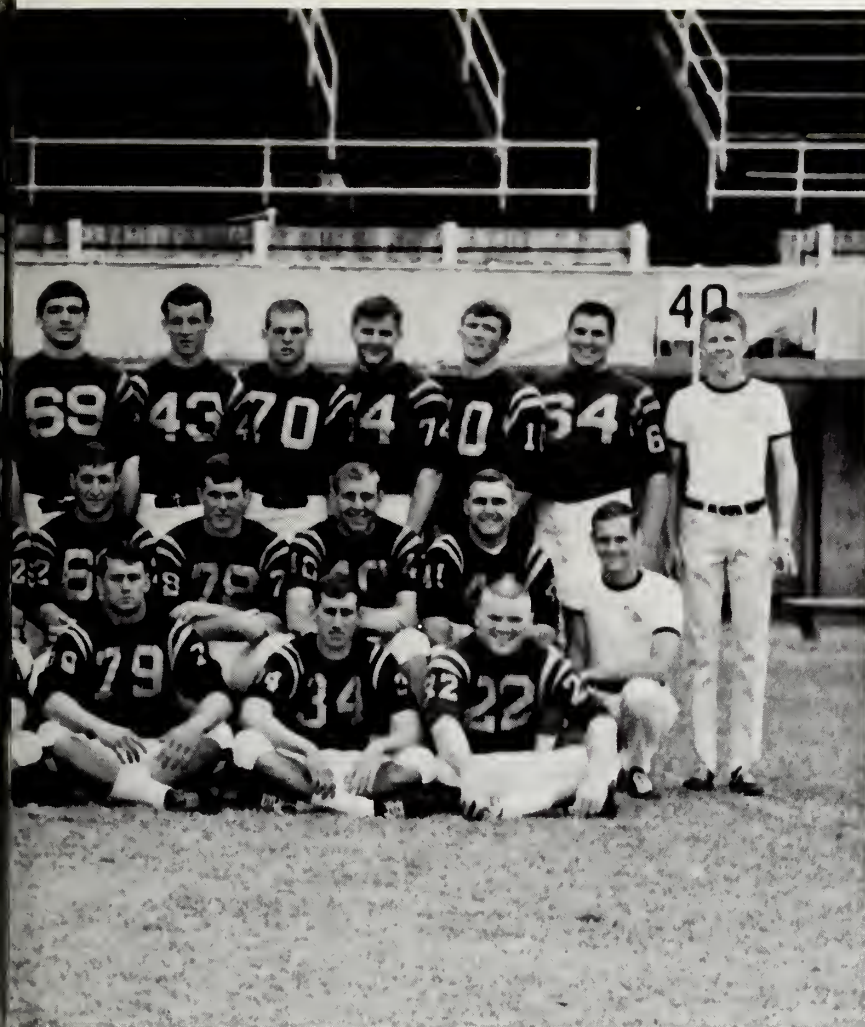

Spirit high, Southern bounced back with a crushing 27-0 defeat of Richmond and, fired up and out for blood, the Southerners marched to the Oyster Bowl, met the hardest-hitting team of the season, and emerged victorious over North Carolina 7-6. The following week, Southern moved on to Greenville, North Carolina to battle with the East Carolina Pirates and came from behind to win 35-14 over the Southern Conference Champs to assure the Southerners of their sixteenth straight winning season.

To end the season, the Southerners moved to enemy territory and Mobile’s Ladd Stadium, where the rolling tide and Bear Bryant defeated them for the first time in the last three contests between the two teams.

COACHING STAFF—KNEELING: P. W. “Bear” Underwood, Coach Thad “Pie” Vann, Maxie Lambright. STANDING: James Berry, Larry “Doc” Harrington, Pete Taylor.

We Recall: crowds, cold, cokes and comfort. The companionship and friendly fraternity rivalry.

We Learn: there just ain't no way to keep Bear Underwood in that press box. The stairs rumble as he makes the field on the double. No wonder the defense is so great; they're afraid not to be.

We Yell: "Give 'em Hell Southern," "Go, Go, Get 'Um, Get 'Um, UH! UH!" Go get 'em, Moose—remember one Bulldog biting the cement. That was real blood, guys. "Flin Flam, Bim Bam, Ole Miss Be Damned." Show them how to play ball, then how to party.

We Know: How the seniors must have felt as they all went out that last game to meet 'Bama. We know, too, the University of Southern Mississippi is great as it stands. And there is no stopping us . . . it's SOUTHERN TO THE TOP.

THE PRIDE in action . . . spirit and enthusiasm in order. They couldn't be any finer . . . the world's most televised band. Whatever else is said about November 26, look below and know that the Dixie Darlings and this band beat 'Bama badly.

A University could desire no more than this in a Homecoming Court. They were gorgeous and gracious.

Oh. My!

They yell and encourage . . .
try to enthuse.
Too often with little support—
through rain, cold and heat—
they endure and remain vibrant and cheering. These are the USM Cheerleaders.

BASKETBALL . . . excitement . . . pom-pon girls . . . crowds, and large ones too . . . USM Invitational, Bayou Classic . . . enthusiasm, in the stands and on the court . . . Kockersperger makes the impossible . . . Ladner runs court . . . Hannan "intercepts" . . . No. 15 fouled who? . . . Golden Giants do battle with mighty Frosh Team . . . look out, the Frosh have what it takes . . . Golden Giants end season with impressive 16-8 record.

Pretty hard to be interested in watching someone else when you're so good.

Practicing behind the Fraternity houses was suicide.

The nationally renowned DIXIE DARLINGS dance to music provided by the PRIDE. They entertain at all home football games, other special university functions, and often travel to various parts of the country for appearances. This year they were televised in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl and in Mobile during the Senior Bowl.

The USM SOCCER TEAM was first scheduled for intercollegiate competition this year. Only the determination of the team members, with love for the game and desire to contribute to this university, has carried them through much administrative difficulty. Their record speaks for itself. Presently the team is one of the top in the Delta Intercollegiate Soccer League. With university support they could join a larger league next year and receive competition more appropriate to their ability.

THE M-CLUB is the organization for varsity athletes who have earned a letter in football, basketball, tennis, golf, or from the rifle team. Earning the letter is not sufficient in itself for membership. Members of this brotherhood have all gone through the rigors of initiation at the hands of their fellow athletes. Endurance, and membership is a reflection of honor, fortitude, and a strong stomach. The members strive to increase sportsmanship and athletics on campus. The annual "mum-sale" project as well as the deep-voiced carollers at basketball games during Christmas time are but two of the projects which show the versatility of the M-Club.

Greeks

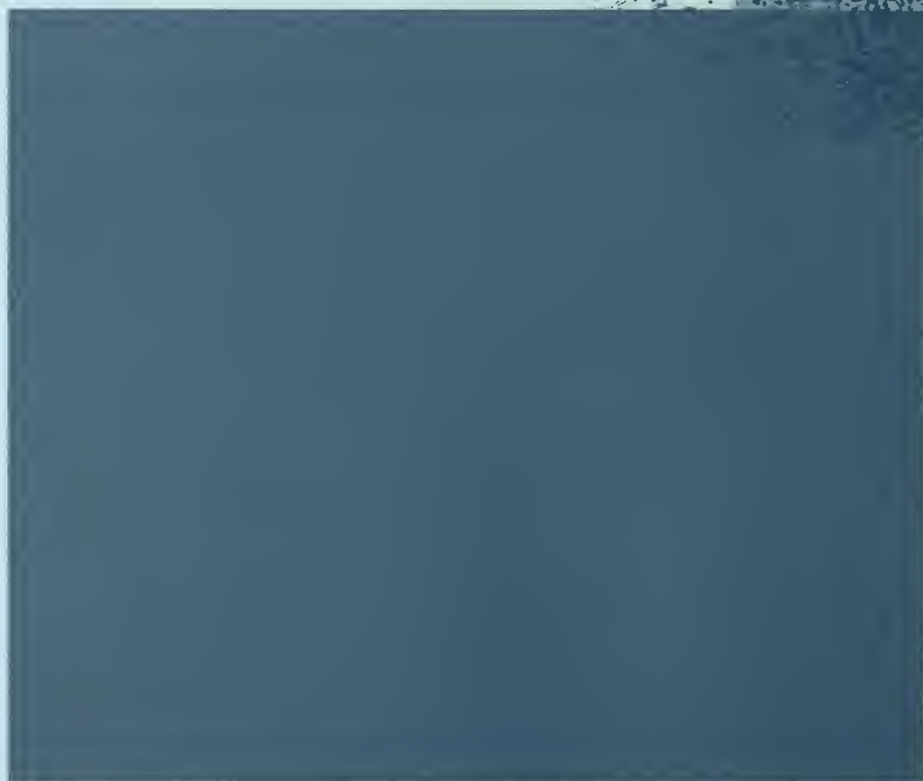

The University of Southern Mississippi's Greek system grows and strengthens annually. Progressive steps have been taken this year as manifested in: appointment of Mrs. Ben Chapell as Assistant Dean of Women in charge of sororities; Mike Morris' outstanding leadership of the Interfraternity Council and the recognition of Southern's IFC at the National IFC Convention in New Orleans; colonization of Sigma Nu; and the expansion of Fraternity Row with immediate plans for the addition of three new fraternity houses.

The Panhellenic Council and the IFC seem to recognize and accept every opportunity to do service for the university or community. Sorority women appear regularly to entertain and visit the elderly citizens of Hattiesburg's Convalescent Home. Fraternities donate time and manpower to help meet Red Cross needs. Panhellenic Floats first-place award in the city's Christmas Parade with "World Peace" theme. And the IFC campus "Clean-Up" campaign is other example of the many worthwhile efforts put forth by USM's 700 Greeks.

In addition to participating in campus and community projects, members of the sixteen social organizations consistently maintain scholastic averages higher than the university norm. Yet, they are social in nature. The many formal functions, the abundant informal parties are paramount to Southern's Greeks. Such occasions, coupled with the philanthropic endeavors, are outlets for the energy and joy of youth. Whether gatherings are pre-planned or spontaneous, when members of a fraternity gather there is a natural bond. This bond ties men and women across the nation together, and, in years to come they will continue to cherish the brotherhood fostered at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Allright, let's have some organization around here.

What an arm.

ACACIA was founded in 1904 at the University of Michigan by fourteen Master Masons on the Masonic principles of brotherhood. Southern's Luther A. Smith chapter came into existence in 1961 and has seen many ups and downs.

But through thick and thin, the right triangle continues to thrive. This year, though a difficult one, Acacia's brotherhood has been elevated to an even higher plane.

After five years of dreaming and working, Acacia finally has a home. Though temporary, it is an improvement, and one step on the way to a permanent location on the new fraternity row.

On a campus, all fraternities have social life and other things in common. However, Acacia has a unique quality: our undefeatable spirit. It has been tried and tested . . . the school spirit . . . in the classroom . . . and on the intramural field. The unblemished record of our football team stands strong—three years and no wins. Yet Acacia fights on—undaunted and with bright hopes for the future.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA was founded at Richmond, Virginia, September 11, 1865—the first Greek letter fraternity founded after the Civil War. Southern's Epsilon Upsilon chapter was installed November 19, 1949. Since then the ATΩ's have grown, prospered, and created an unmistakable image: "Rush successful as usual despite repeat performance of clothes lists and hundred-dollar assessments. Won't you beggars ever learn? H.D. came over to Cromer's room for a drink—free drinks. Party room adapted to more functional appearance with addition of new bar, French-cellar wine racks, and half-kegs extending from wall. "The house—best on campus—cafeteria facilities, maids color TV, and Mooney . . . Skulker's long road trip . . . Heart-attack, Sid didn't die . . . meat head pledge team. "Homecoming came off with a 'Bang' . . . Christmas came too . . . 100% members on President's list—wrong list . . . what more can you say but Rebel Yell and drink? "Warren got last blow . . . Tolley gives Saturday night shampoo . . . Lazenby pinned and dropped but not to the same girl . . . Silcox earns free pass for turkey dinner . . . Uniontown vs. Punta-Gorda—Punta-Gorda loses." ATΩ's like those at Southern . . . no campus should be without them.

Let it not be said that the men of Alpha Tau Omega are one-sided, for it is not so. They ever aspire for academic elevation while maintaining a healthy interest in the social. Here, for example are two young men hoping to impress their active brothers by the intellectual pursuit of bird-watching. Soon they will spot that young hen approaching from the rear, and focus accordingly.

KAPPA ALPHA ORDER, founded December 21, 1865, at Washington College, Virginia, has long been in the forefront of the college fraternity scene. Over 56,000 living Kappa Alphas can testify to the beneficial influence of the fraternity that lives in the shadow of Robert Edward Lee.

Kappa Alpha came to Southern on January 9, 1949, and has since held a dominant position in Southern life.

KA is now like Forrest County—all wet. Our social activities include Old South Ball, Black and White Formal, football game parties, Christmas parties, week-end parties, beer busts, stag parties, and front yard Honda races.

Tough Taus

Yes, sir, Folks, here she is: The finest Mom in the world.

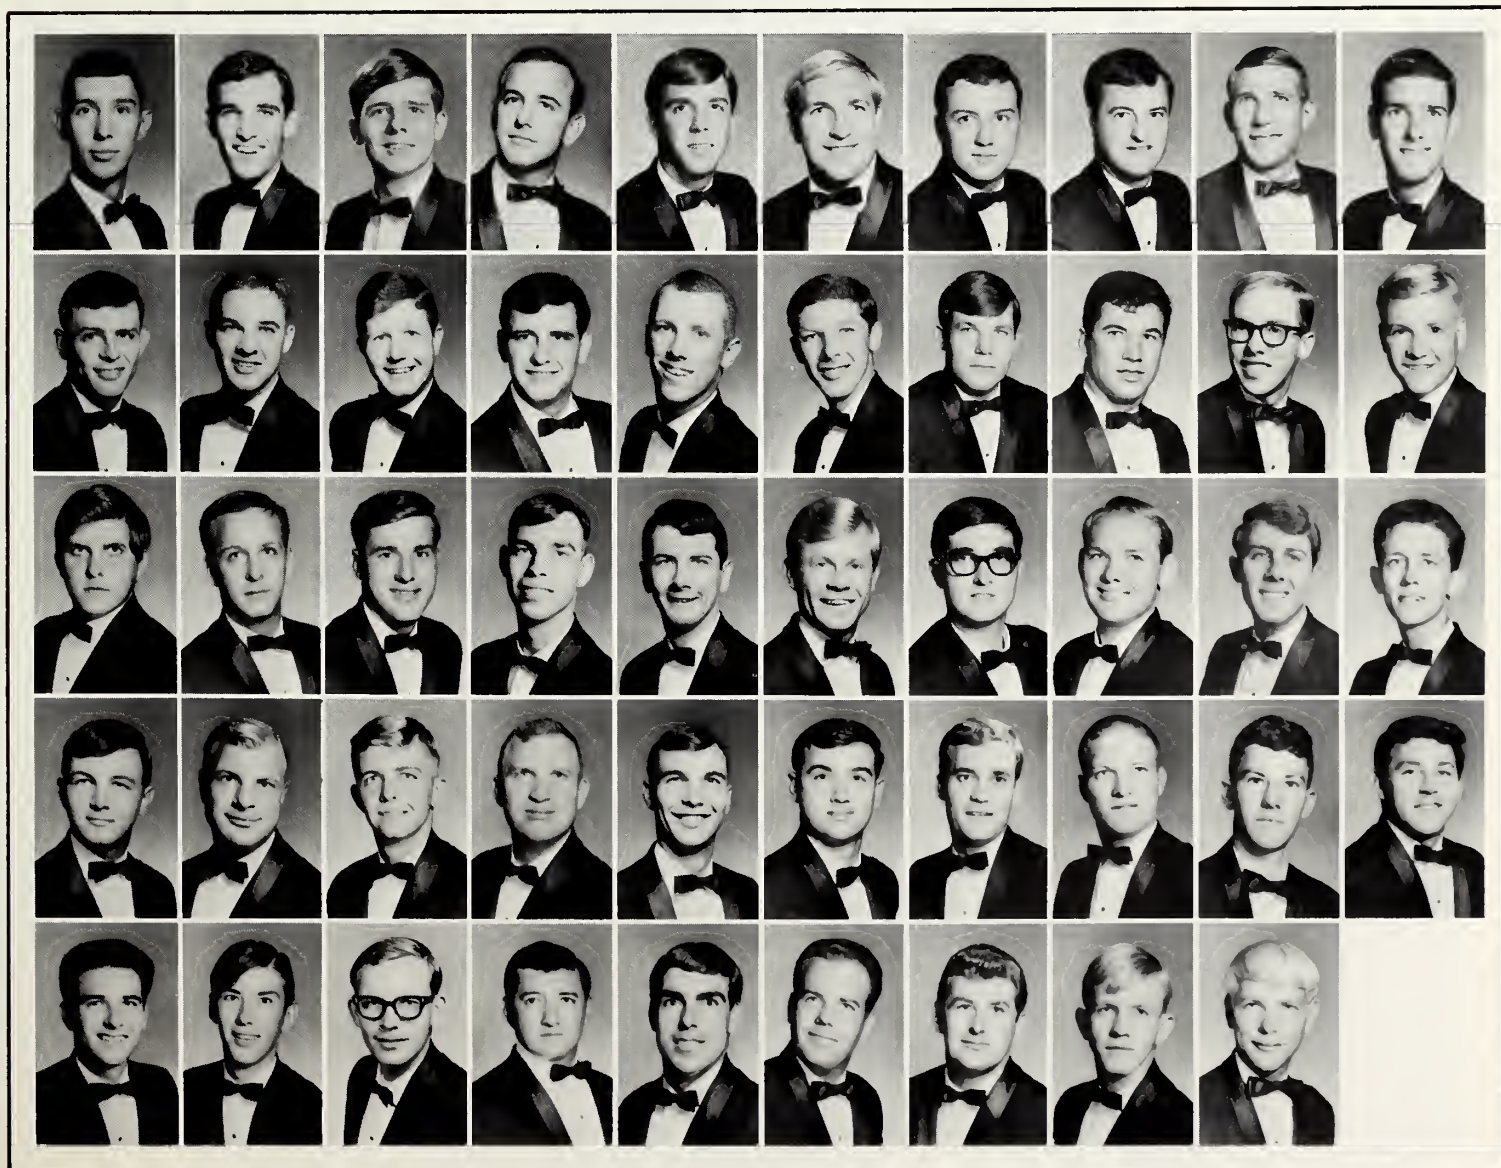

PHI KAPPA TAU, from its national founding in 1906, through its emergence as the first fraternity on the USM campus in 1948, has grown to be a pace-setter in sports, student government, and social functions. We take pride in the history of achievement that makes Phi Tau a leader.

We emphasize the social: Red Carnation Ball, French Quarter Party . . . "She signed out for what! . . . Happy Birthday Lynn . . . and can you believe those uninvited guests peering through the window?" Homecoming swings, and plenty of pledge swaps. Then make "Oaks City." Where ya'at Gen'l Nat . . . Moose, Didja have to bash his head in? "Put 'dat on me." . . . Bosarge graduates. Another wonder, Skeet is initiated. SGA president, Senior V.P.! Junior President, intramural championships, and much more. Hip Hip Phi Tau, clear and bold, rings the cheer for the red and gold.

PI KAPPA ALPHA grew out of the friendship of six men at the University of Virginia on March 1, 1868. As the founders stated, they little imagined the great Oak tree which was to grow from their planning. But it grew, and we continue to grow.

The House burns, but Pikes never die—no probation, new house by summer, best pledges, world's finest "Mom." IFC president, and Ken, Pike All American.

What party, Mr. Dickerson? A beer can . . . Couldn't be. The Dream Girl is Greek Goddess, Homecoming Queen. Halloween, and the Great Pumpkin visits pledges . . . "which Morris is the fool?" Shield and Diamond . . . Hey, what's good Engles? . . . Let's make love, Mary Sue . . . Tom makes it big at National. The Phantom pledge is dead, and what ho, French graduates!

Thank God for the "Pi" for we are Pi Kappa Alpha. Whether it's to Jerry's for a Pabst or all out for the Roman party.

Like we said, the ΣΑΕ's are everywhere . . . but the Fair survived anyway.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON was founded on March 9, 1856, at the University of Alabama. It was the first Greek-letter fraternity founded in the South and the only one to survive the Civil War. It not only survived, but grew, and is now the nation's largest social fraternity.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon appeared at USM as a Phi Alpha local on May 8, 1963. Two years of hard work and high goals were climaxed on December 11, 1965, when Mississippi Sigma Chapter was officially installed as the 151st chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

That constant first place in scholarship doesn't stop us from knowing how to party. Homecoming . . . and Travis Womack . . . pickin' with his toes. "But the Legion Hut won't hold 700 people!" OFFICERS—SEATED, FRONT: Howard J. Lee, President; Frank Misurelly, Vice President; Terry Lechner, Comptroller. BACK ROW: Gene McDaniels, Recorder; Chevis Swetman, Secretary.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON was born in 1901 at Richmond College. As one of the six mother fraternities, Sigma Phi Epsilon has grown from its original twelve chapters to one of the largest fraternities in the world.

Mississippi Gamma Chapter was chartered in 1953 as the third chapter in Mississippi and the 137th in the nation.

Today, there are over 170 chapters with a combined membership of well over 70,000.

With an active chapter of over twenty members, Sigma Phi Epsilon held one of its most successful rushes ever this year, and the pledge class stands at about thirty strong.

With pledges and brothers working together on projects such as homecoming floats, car washes, pledge swaps, and work parties, we strive toward our ultimate goal of true brotherhood. Truly, Sigma Phi Epsilon at Southern strives to maintain the high ideals for which it is known throughout the nation.

GREEK WEEK, the year's finale, and what a way to be sent off. It is a week of fun, sponsored by the Greeks, but intended for everyone. The Carnival, Street Dance, Slave Auctions are all a part. The whole thing is carefully organized and supervised by the Interfraternity Council, and comes to a close with day-long competition around College Lake followed by a dance as we all become friends again.

Hey! Have ya'll seen an emerald green contact?

Some sorority leaders and rushees enjoy a Panhellenic-sponsored style show.

Mrs. Chappell registers and advises rushees at registration in Nat's Nook.

The PANHELLENIC COUNCIL, which is composed of two representatives from each sorority, for the first time this year has been under the direction of Mrs. Ben Chappell, Assistant Dean of Women in charge of sororities. The council's activities have ranged from entering a first-place float in Hattiesburg's Christmas parade to regularly visiting a local home for the elderly. Their unified efforts have helped strengthen Southern's Greek system and illustrate to the community some of the ideals and purposes of sorority women.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA was founded in Farmville, Virginia, on November 15, 1901. Beta Delta, one of forty-five chapters, began its history at USM as the second national sorority on campus.

We started off the year with a successful rush . . . great pledges . . . slumber parties, pledges' Halloween party for actives . . . will we ever get over it? The Founder's Day Banquet, parent-daughter banquet, and finally the long-awaited Red Slipper Ball filled the Alpha Sigma Alpha Calandar. Spirit, enthusiasm, and hard work brought Beta Delta the national Scholastic Improvement Award. Alpha Sigs also topped in charity projects, athletics, and campus activities. Alpha Sigs are . . . active in all phases of campus life . . . social and scholastic achievements . . . ROTC sponsors . . . beauties . . . class officers . . . senators . . . Alpha Lambda Delta officers . . . Druids . . . Dean's List and President's List Scholars.

Sisters of Alpha Sigma Alpha share everlasting friendships in a wonderful sorority.

CHI OMEGA, the first national fraternity for women, was founded April 9, 1895, at the University of Arkansas.

Chi Omega was truly Southern-born for at this time there were no sororities below the Mason-Dixon Line. Chi Omega was started on Southern's campus as Mu Omega and became the National Epsilon Delta chapter on April 23, 1949.

Seventeen Chi Omegas were elected campus senators, class favorites, campus honoraries, pom-pon girls, Dixie Darlings, six ROTC positions, beauties, fraternity sweethearts, cheerleaders, Best Dressed Coed for 1966, Homecoming maids, Druids, SCF officers, and USM pageant finalist.

Chi Omegas will remember the pallet parties, workshops, float decorating, banquets, dances, popcorn time, coffee pots perking, and song fest.

But aside from activities on campus, there is a depth in Chi Omega which goes beneath the glitter of University honors—Chi Omega remains a true sisterhood.

"TRI DELTA is for always." That's what Sara Ida Shaw intended when she founded our sisterhood at Boston University, Thanksgiving Eve, 1888. Southern's Phi Epsilon became one of the 108 international chapters on March 31, 1951.

Our endeavors and joys are many, from the granting of scholarships each year to the love we feel for "Wang Chi," our adopted Korean orphan. We try—always together—and succeed.

Delta Delta Deltas are everywhere: Three SGA officers, Pom Pon girls, cheerleaders, D.D.'s, ROTC Brigade and Company Sponsors, ATΩ Sweetheart and KA Rose. Class Officers and homecoming court, four in Who's Who, Druids president, Phi Delta Rho president, Miss Mississippi, Miss Southern, Miss USM; the list goes on and on. But most of all we're Tri-Delts.

Those unbelievable meetings and the beautiful ones. Song Fest forever! Candlelight epidemic, social life, but again number one scholastically. Friendliness: a way of life for the Tri Delta. We are 78,000 women, strongly bound by a set of inspiring and beautiful rituals and ideals. Little wonder we sing, "Delta love lives within us forever." Tri Delta is, truly, for always.

DELTA ZETA was founded at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio on October 24, 1902. Since then Delta Zeta has grown to over 165 chapters across the nation, making it the largest national sorority with a membership of over 65,000.

After one short year, Epsilon Mu boasts many honors distributed among a membership of over sixty girls. Fall found Delta Zeta busy with big sister-little sister parties, pledge swaps, float decorating parties, and impromptu entertainment for the pledges by the actives. With a brand new active class, Valentine and spring formals highlighted the season. Intramurals and Greek Week rounded out a great Delta Zeta year for the proud girls who wear the the Diamond and Four Pearls.

Getting the year off with a most successful rush, Kappa Delta faced a new, exciting year. Kappa Deltas on campus include cheerleaders, class officers, favorites, beauties, ROTC sponsors, Greek Goddess, Dixie Darlings, senior maid, and homecoming queen. Honorary organizations with Kappa Delta members are: Phi Delta Rho, Alpha Lambda Delta, Gamma Beta Phi, and Druids. Besides that, we set a scholarship record of 3.1, and received the scholarship plaque on Honors Day. The Kappa Deltas have planned numerous parties including the Christmas dance and the White Rose formal at the end of the school year. Kappa Delta is a composite of many things, little sisters plus big sisters equal Kappa Delta love, entertaining in the chapter room, hard work, fun, and that genuine Kappa Delta spirit.

PHI MU sorority was founded by three prominent students at Wesleyan College on March 4, 1852. Since then it has become a growing organization of sisterhood having 95 active chapters with 45,000 members. The Alpha Omicron chapter was installed on Southern's campus March 25, 1950.

Phi Mu's are active and interested in their university's endeavors. Phi Mu's can be found in the Committee of 100, the student senate, and as representatives to the SCOPE conferences. Campus life at USM has been enriched by the presence of Phi Mu's as campus beauties, ROTC sponsors, and cheerleaders. The Pike pledge class and Phi Taus claim Phi Mu's as sweethearts.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA, the first national sorority installed on the campus of the University of Southern Mississippi, was founded April 20, 1898, in Farmville, Virginia. The founders established the sorority on the belief that high ideals, self-confidence, and lasting friendships will produce well-rounded, self reliant women.

The Tri-Sigmas' national philanthropic project is the "Robbie Page Memorial." Started in order to build a ward for crippled children at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, the project has now branched out into other fields, all centering around the theme of "helping children."

Sigma Sigma Sigmas on Southern's campus enjoy a full calendar of activities each year. Highlights of the year are a Big Sister-Little Sister Christmas Party, a Christmas Charity Project, a "Miss What-Ever-It-Is" contest, Sigma Week, a spring formal, and the Founder's Day Banquet.

Before class, a time to relax, or maybe to plan some new way to support U.S.M. Not every university is blessed with such spirited individuals. Where, but at Southern would you hear Malequena from a bugle, followed by "CHARGE," and know the Latin American students are lending enthusiasm.

MR. RALPH SIVERIO
Director of the Institute

The LATIN AMERICAN INSTITUTE was founded at Southern in January of 1947. Foreign students were arriving on campus without a useful knowledge of English, American customs, manners, or morals. Realizing this, the late Col. Melvin G. Nydegger founded the institute. Courses are offered in English as well as customs, culture and politics of the United States. The Institute at Southern is an accredited one approved by the office of the Attorney General. Students passing the Test of English as a Foreign Language are qualified to enter any college or university in the nation to pursue further studies.

Classes are small, with emphasis on individual participation.

Latin-American students utilize the language lab to improve English verbal ability. That happy fellow on the right must have a music channel tuned in.

Mrs. Nydegger has been at the institute since her husband founded it in 1947. Here we caught her by surprise.

A busload of inquisitive young from the coast come to view our L.A.I.

STUDENT PRINTZ provides English reading practice. See the man on crutches. He's a soccer hero, with a broken foot to prove it.

Takes a lot of practice to produce a squad this close to perfection.

THE DEBATE SQUAD is, without qualification, one of the finest and most successful in the entire South. Under the coaching of Dr. Ben Chappell, the group has attained national recognition for excellence. And, although most of the members were without previous experience, they achieved a phenomenal 66 per cent win record last year. During 1965-66 the group traveled over 33,000 miles for competition, and Southern was one of few schools in the nation to have winning teams in both the national varsity and national novice tournaments. Squad membership is open to any student with an inquiring and organized mind who is interested in representing the University in inter-collegiate competition.

Let me show you a few of the trophies.

Preparing to add a few miles to that already accumulated 33,000.

The first ROTC unit at the University of Southern Mississippi was initiated in 1950. It was a branch Material Unit to prepare cadets for commissioning in Field Artillery. In 1953, a program of General Military Science was adopted to give the cadet a wider range of military training in his precommissioning schooling. Cadets are given the opportunity during their 4th year to select a branch of the Army in which to be commissioned.

In 1958 Southern adopted a mandatory program of ROTC training for all eligible male Freshman and Sophomore students. Upon the retirement of Colonel John P. Dale last spring, Colonel James E. Echols, professor of Military Science, was assigned to USM.

Colonel Echols graduated from Southern in 1963, and comes here directly from the Pentagon.

Wednesday, and the campus is decorated with men in uniform. Some are dedicated, and actively acquiring skills to be practiced throughout life; others merely appear for drill. Whatever their purpose, all of these men will see active duty. And the Army ROTC training they have received under capable, personable instructors at the University of Southern Mississippi will serve them in good stead—whether they carry messages in the Pentagon or lug rifles through mire in Southeast Asia.

In the business world today, the student without an adequate education is at a distinct disadvantage. This disadvantage exists from the time he applies for a position to the length of time it will take him to master the fundamentals of operation and rise to any type of administrative position. The SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION has as its objective meeting the needs of our students who desire a business education by combining courses throughout the university to give him the proper blend of cultural knowledge, economic literacy, basic business tools, and specialized knowledge to permit him to secure an acceptable position upon graduation and rise in the business world to the maximum of his abilities.

It provides a medium through which student opinion may be heard and a forum for the consideration of common business fraternity problems.

Pi Sigma Epsilon was founded in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1951, by Mr. Lloyd L. Antle. Since then Pi Sigma Epsilon has grown to better than forty chapters across the United States.

Delta Chapter has been growing too, this year by almost tripling its membership during 1966-67.

Outstanding among this year's accomplishments was co-sponsorship of the Jeanne Dixon appearance in the Coliseum. The program grossed $12,000, a portion of which was added to the $8,000 Pi Sigma Epsilon scholarship fund.

Where were you when the lights went out?

I don't know . . . I just don't know, but it looks like fun.

The HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, AND RECREATION CLUB, which was formed in the fall of 1966, resulted from a merger of the Women's Physical Education Club and the Co-Ed Recreation and Health Club.

The organization unites those of related majors and common interests, sponsors intercollegiate athletic competition, as well as intracollegiate games such as a basketball game between the Women's Varsity team and the M Club seniors. The members have heard an address by an Olympic Medal winner, and last year held a departmental picnic where they honored two outstanding faculty members: Miss Marianne Brown and Dr. Robert McDavid.

It has been the desire of the School of FINE ARTS to combine the high standards of performance characteristic of art studio, the conservatory, and legitimate stage, while maintaining the scholarly approach to art, music, and theatre typical of the academically oriented university, the proficiency in pedagogical skills and education research associated with leading teacher training institutions, as well as rendering service to the university, local and state communities.

Art, music and theatre have been integral parts of every culture and are therefore included in the great traditions which the University seeks to cultivate. The School of Fine Arts performs the following basic functions: cultural contributions, research and creative activities, instruction, and service to the student body, the University of Southern Mississippi, the community and the state.

The entire campus is able to enjoy the programs of the School of Fine Arts: art exhibits, faculty recitals, opera productions, and band, choral, and orchestra concerts.

The USM ORCHESTRA and CONCERT BAND are an important part of the Hattiesburg community as well as the University. The excellence of all Southern's bands is recognized and accepted gratefully. A bit of culture—an oasis in the desert are these individuals who practice and excell in their endeavor and who bring enjoyment to their many listeners.

The U.S.M. DANCE BAND regularly entertains at such special functions such as the Jeanne Dixon show and the Military Ball. This group of musicians excells in every form of music from Big Band Dance music to modern Jazz. They are easy to listen to, great to dance to, and—especially when one of them performs a solo—a joy to watch.

The UNIVERSITY SINGERS are a well traveled and experienced group of talented college students. They have appeared with the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra in New Orleans, and the Mobile Philharmonic in Mobile, and they have traveled on tour to Charleston West Virginia. Two of its members, Mildred Sterling and Joe Miller, have won many honors. Mildred won first place in the regional Metropolitan Opera contest and Joe took second place.

SOUTHERN PLAYERS, student dramatic organization, is not restricted to student majoring in theater. The interested student first becomes an apprentice. After working in various phases of theater production, he then becomes eligible for full membership. Southern Players and Alpha Psi Omega, in cooperation with the staff of the Theater Department, sponsor all regular season productions. During open house, Southern Players presented guests with an overall view of the activities involved in theater, and concluded the evening with refreshments and fine entertainment.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA is the largest national honorary dramatics fraternity in the world. The Lambda Nu Cast was formed on Southern's campus in 1949. Students who have participated in many productions and achieved an outstanding degree of excellence are eligible for membership. Alpha Psi Omega, in cooperation with the Theatre Department and Southern Players, sponsors all regular season productions.

In 1966 The SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS sponsored the largest Summer Theatre program yet offered at the University of Southern Mississippi. Four musicals and six plays were presented. Southern Summer Theatre, student summer stock theatre—operating for the eighth consecutive season—presented "Riverwind," "The Gazebo," "The Rainmaker," "The Happy Time," "Catch Me If You Can," "Send Me No Flowers," and "Never To Late." Summer Musical Theatre, for its first full-length season, presented "The Sound of Music," "Annie Get Your Gun," and "The Music Man."

"Annie Get Your Gun"—The happy finale shows the merging of the great wild west shows with Buffalo Bill and Mildred Sterling as Dolly Tate.

"Send Me No Flowers"—Lucille Garrett, as Mrs. Akins, sells "eternal rest on the easy payment plan" to the unprepared John Hammons, playing George Kimball, who erroneously believes he is going to die.

"Catch Me If You Can"—Danny Corban (special guest Stocker Fontelieu, Executive Director of Le Petit Theatre du Vieux Carre) grimaces as he prepares to receive truth serum from Inspector Levine (John Hammons) as Elizabeth Corban (Carol Russell) looks on, wondering what the results will be.

"The Rainmaker"—Bill Starbuck (Jim Garrett, center) begins his rain dance as members of the Curry family watch.

"Riverwind"—Virginia (Dana Austin) is so surprised when lover Burt (Phil Minyard) finally pops the question that she literally drops everything.

"The Happy Time"—Maman (Barbara Jones, center) is furious when she finds her son, Bibi, wearing garters which his uncle has collected at a burlesque house.

The School of Home Economics

A Bachelor of Science Degree in HOME ECONOMICS prepares students to assume responsibilities in areas with the various aspects of daily living. Paralled to this preparation, students have a choice of several professional areas which prepare them for places in the world of work.

Modern laboratory facilities are available to provide students with experiences in each of the major areas of specialization. The program is designed so that non-home economics majors may take any of these courses as electives.

Dr. Weaver says "Home Economics is an integral part of everyday life. Our major goal is to make a better way of life for individuals and families."

Ah . . . it's a regular "home away from home" for many . . . but economically ruining.

DEAN RALPH SEER OWINGS

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL is recognized by the University as one of its most important divisions. Since its establishment in 1947, the function and purpose of the Graduate School has been to provide opportunities for those who wish to further their education and to obtain degrees at the master's and doctorate levels. Graduate education provides an opportunity for students to do research and to make original inquiries for the advancement and discovery of knowledge whereby the social, political, educational, and economic status of the state and the South will be enhanced. The Graduate School endeavors to prepare personnel for roles of leadership in all aspects of our society.

GRADUATE CLASS OFFICERS: Joe Lott, Vice-President; Donald Nace, Treasurer; Cornelia Pitts, Secretary; T. G. Sarphie, President.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Jim Weaver, President; Mary Sue Baylis, Treasurer; Nick Doyle, Vice-President; Laurel Lay, Secretary.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Bobby McMinn, President; Donna Lee Field, Treasurer; Henry Randazzo, Vice-President; Linda Dickey, Secretary.

DEAN SIDNEY E. L. WEATHERFORD

THE BASIC COLLEGE, under the supervision of Dean Sidney Weatherford, initiates the new student into Southern's academic community. Ninety hours of specific courses are required in the Basic College prior to admission into one's major school. The time spent under Basic College jurisdiction is necessary and serves a practical purpose. The variety of subjects required introduces freshmen and sophomores to many possible career areas to which they might not otherwise be exposed. Also important is that the well-rounded individual have a liberal education; this desirable characteristic is insured by our Basic College system.

The interminable lines. . . . Need information, permission, advice, a signature? Stand in line.
